Look at Us!

I hope you are making plans to join us next weekend for Our Marriage Matters Weekend with Daniel and Tiffany Gaines. It is a wonderful opportunity to draw closer to your spouse and to the Lord. It is undeniable that there is a direct link between our marital lives and our spiritual lives. When people start having marital issues, it is usually not long until they start having spiritual issues and vice versa. When people are striving spiritually, it is a pathway to thriving in their marriage.

This is more than just my observation. It is according to God's plan in the creation of marriage. In Ephesians 5:31-32 Paul writes about marriage saying, "for this cause a man shall leave His Father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and the two shall become one flesh. This mystery is great; but I am speaking with reference to Christ and the church." In this entire section of scripture it seems like Paul is just writing about God's intent for marriage, but there is something much deeper. Our marriages are intended by God to actually reflect Christ and the Church. If they really are that intended reflection, we ought to be able to make a statement like, "If you want to see how Christ sacrificed for His Church, look at my marriage." "If you want to see how much God loves the Church, look at my marriage." "If you want to see how inseparable Christ is to His Church, look at my marriage."

These statements and many more are bold proclamations, but that is God's intent. That is why we intentionally spend time each year focusing on our marriages. That is also why you and your spouse should make time to come and be a part. I want the world and my spouse to see and understand Christ and His Church through me.
